

Trade in a Group?

Should I trade in a group or trade by myself?

Now, trading can either be:

- (a) A team sport, or
- (b) An individual event.

For beginners, it is better to approach trading as a team sport. This means that we should seek to work within a framework of a trading team. By doing so:

- You will not feel alone
- You will have consensus of the group
- Your picks can be scrutinized by group members
- This may be the best place for your trading confidence to grow

Trading in a Team is one of the core philosophy of the Trading Trainer Trading System. To find out more of trading in a team, there is more information at Trading Trainer.
